

Ava D'Eon is a dancer and choreographer from the Boston area. She is a senior Dance and Business double major at Skidmore College and will graduate in May. At Skidmore, she has performed works by Professors Jason Ohlberg, Erika Pujič, and Chia-Ying Kao, as well as guest artists including Peter Chu, Takehiro Ueyama, Brenda Way and Dexandro Montalvo, Monica Bill Barnes and BalletX. Ava is also currently the secretary, and a performer and choreographer, for Rithmos, a jazz and hip-hop club on campus.

Ava has furthered her dance education through intensives with Doug Varone and Dancers and Ground Grooves, and, most recently, worked with Mikey Morado in the creation of her senior capstone project. Her choreography was invited to perform in Skidmore's 2023 Celebration Weekend Concert, being the only student choreographer asked to share their work in the program. She is excited to start her post-graduation journey teaching and sharing her passion for dance with you all this summer!
